

Author Bios

Author Bios

Short Bio: Susan Grant is a former Bible teacher who writes about the difficult and sometimes confusing themes of faith and the Bible for both children and adults.

Medium Bio: Susan Grant is a 1986 graduate of Columbia International University and has been a classroom teacher for 36 years. She is a children's author of a picture book series Boone Tails which includes the first book, Sweet Dreams, Boone. Susan also tackles the tough questions of faith and Christianity in her writing. Susan addresses many of the issues Christians wrestle with in her debut novel, The Bottle House, and in her daily "minute-devotions" available at susan-grant.com.

Long Bio: Susan Grant has written books and articles that wrestle with the tough issues of faith and Christianity. Her gift lies in taking nebulous biblical concepts and making them practical so that her readers can understand and incorporate these values into their lives. Susan has authored a series of children's picture books called Boone Tails, starting with the first book, Sweet Dreams, Boone. For adults facing challenges in their faith, Susan's novel, The Bottle House, is must-read. Susan's devotional books, 100 Minutes with God and 100 More Minutes with God were a number 1 new release on Amazon. Her daily devotions are available on her author website, susan-grant.com. Multiple digital downloads for Bible study are also available on her site. Susan lives on the coast of Maine with her husband and her little red dachshund.

Susan Grant

susan-grant.com

sgrant@susan-grant.com

Facebook: @susangrantcom

Instragram: @susangrantcom